VIP FundsManager® 20% Portfolio Performance: The Bottom Line

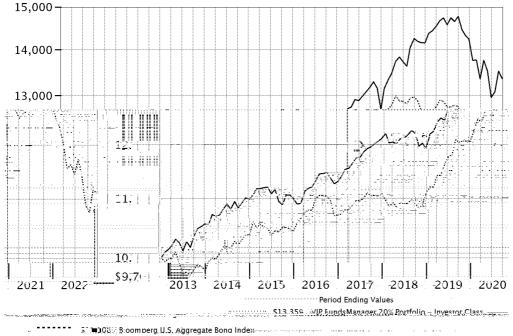

Average annual total return reflects the change in the value of an investment, assuming reinvestment of distributions from dividend income and capital gains (the profits earned upon the sale of securities that have grown in value, if any) and assuming a constant rate of performance each year. During periods of reimbursement by Fidelity, a fund's total return will be greater than it would be had the reimbursement not occurred. Performance numbers are net of all underlying fund operating expenses, but do not include any insurance charges imposed by your insurance company's separate account. If performance information included the effect of these additional charges, the total returns would have been lower. How a fund did yesterday is no guarantee of how it will do tormorow.

Shareholder Expense Example

As a strated dr; you immutively pes frosts (1) transation costs which may induce sales drages (load) en pudrase payments creden ption poceeds, as applicable and (2) orging costs which greatly induce management fees, distribution and/creative (126-1) fees and other Fundex press. This Example is interded to help you understand your orging costs (in ddlas) of investing in a fund and the compare these costs with the orging costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the paiod and held for the entire paiod (July 1, 2022 to December 31, 2022).

Actual Expenses

Tefist line of the accompanying table povides information about attual account values and actual express. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested to estimate the express that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,0000 = 8,6), the multiply the result by the number in the first line for a dass/Fund under the heading entitled "Express Paid Duing Period" to estimate the expression you paid on your account duing this period. If any fundis a shareholder of any underlying mutual funds or exchange traded funds (ETFs) (the Underlying Funds), such fund indirectly beas its period as the expression and the expressing the expression and the expression

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes

Tescardline of the accompanying table poxids information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical express based on the actual expression and an assumediate of return of 5% paryear before expressive which is not the actual return. The hypothetical account values and expressionary not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expression paid for the paid. You may use this information to compare the organized sciences in the Fund and other funds. To choose compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the state hyber reports of the other funds. If any fund is a shareholder of any Underlying Runds, such fund indirectly be as its population at share of the expression for Underlying Runds in addition to the direct express appearted in the table. These fees and express are not included in the annalized expression used to calculate the expression are in the table below. The estimate of express abound the any fees or other express of any variable annity or variable life insurance podurt. If they were, the estimate of expression updating the paid would be higher; and your ending account value would be lower.

Hærende trat the expanses shown in the table are meant to highlight your organized scaly and donch reflect any transaction costs. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing organized scales, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were induced, your costs would have been higher:
